EVENT

Rental terms and Delivery terms

Rental terms

All prices are rental prices for entire exhibition period unless something else is stated. See current payment terms above.

Everyday terms/wording

The word "RENT" is used on Workman Events Website and it means that you as a customer "RENT" our rental services and product services. A few products are marked as "purchase only", this then means that the product is only for sale and that the buyer then keeps it after the exhibition. If nothing is mentioned then all purchases are rentals only.

Delivery of product or service

Workman Event can not guarantee that we have every product in stock. Workman Event reserves the right to then use an alternative product instead. If an order is late we reserve the right to decline delivery of the chosen product or service.

Prices not included in Workman Event services.

Goods handling:

All goods handling performed by Workman Event AB, or performed for Workman Event AB in connection with delivery to exhibitors, invoiced after the fair to the exhibitor concerned.

At facilities where Workman Event AB does not have the contract:

Transport is not included in Workman Event AB's rental prices. This is specified as a separate item in the quote/order confirmation. Service performed by the fair facility in question is not included in Workman Event AB's services. Examples of services provided by the facility: electrical connection, wire points, on-site goods handling such as unloading/loading of trucks, delivery of goods to and from stands and empty goods handling/storage. These services are ordered by the facility and charged to the exhibitor, this applies to both the customer's material and products rented or purchased by Workman Event AB. Workman Event AB can, on behalf of the customer, carry out an order for a facility if desired. For the current price list, contact the facility.

For questions about this, contact Workman Event AB before placing an order.

Price adjustments or changes

Workman Event reserves the right for price adjustments.

Workman Event can whenever necessary adjust or remove products from the catalogue/assortment.

Typos

Workman Event can not be held responsible for any typos that may occur in catalogues, online web shop, pamphlets or other information given out in accordance with Workman Events services.

Damage or loss of Workman Events products

Damage or loss of product will be replaced by the exhibitor (buyer/renter of product/service).

Please note that the cost of a product which is damaged or lost is often much higher than the actual rental price.
